THURSDAY, NOV. 25, 1897.

State detective Newbold surrendered himself to the authorities at Chester last Sunday night. This is the first time in the history of South Carolina that a man charged with murder has dictated the terms of his surrender, and in other ways acted in the matter entirely as he saw fit.

The Republicans in Congress have a very difficult task on their hands in the matter of currency revision. While their majority in the House is ample to enable them to carry out any plans determined upon, this can not be said of the Senate, and grave doubts are expressed of carrying through that body any financial proposition which does not provide for the free coinage of silver.

Dr. T. M. Bailey, of Greenville, the corresponding secretary of the Baptist State Mission Board, got off a "good one" on the editors in a speech before the Southeast Baptist Association, at Bethel, last week. He said that nearly every editor of a secular paper in the State had jumped on the preachers for their replies to Gov. Elbert's recent circular letter, and said that the preachers were entirely out of their sphere when "dabbling in politics;" that they said the preachers had no sense in matters political, &c. "Why," he exclaimed, "if I had no more sense than some of those same editors, I would go off, crawl into a hole and draw the hole in after me."

A Call.

To the Farmers of Williamsburg County: At a meeting of the Cotton growers of South Carolina, held in Columbia on Nov. 12th, I was appointed to call a meeting for the purpose of organizing the farmers of Williamsburg county.

Object of the meeting is to perfect an organization in every township in the county for the purpose of regulating the sale and price of cotton. Therefore, let me urge and earnestly request that all who are in sympathy with the movement meet me in the Court House at Kingstree on the first Monday in December, at 11 o'clock A. M.

I hope the farmers will interest themselves in this matter and aid in every way possible to raise and keep the price of cotton above the cost of production.

Manufacturers Against the Tariff Bill.

One of the most striking indications of the growth of sentiment against high protection and of a liberal sentiment upon tariff matters is the movement against the pending tariff bill by the Manufacturers' Association of the United States. Mr. A. B. Farquhar, an extensive manufacturer of agricultural machinery at York, Pa., is at the head of the movement.

It is well known that in the manufacture of agricultural implements and machinery Americans are far in advance of their competitors in any other land and that the products of their factories may be seen in the fields all over the civilized world. These people need no protection and are well able to take care of themselves. All they ask is to have untaxed raw material, so that they will not be placed at a disadvantage.

A great list of other industries are practically in the same position and desire free raw material more than they desire protection. It is also significant that the manufacturers, in their petition to the Senate, declare that their ability to employ American labor will be greatly impaired by the passage of the tariff bill. They ask that the Chinese wall that is obstructing the foreign trade and crippling American enterprise shall be broken down.

The plea which has been used for years by the protectionists—namely, that protection is in the interest of American labor—is shown by census figures to be a sham. Of the 5,000,000 persons employed in manufacturing in the United States it is shown in the petition that less than 200,000 are employed in occupations subject to active foreign competition and 616,000 in occupations subject to moderate foreign competition. The remainder, over 4,000,000, do not come at all in competition with foreign labor.

It is very plain that the Dingley bill is not designed, any more than any other high protective measure was designed, to protect American labor or to produce revenues for the government. It is designed primarily to protect the trusts and to foster monopoly.—Baltimore Sun.

Blessed Are the Poor!

Representatives of the crockery interest who have gone to Washington to protest against the new tariff complaint that the proposed schedules discriminate against goods used by the poor and in favor of those purchased by the rich. Blessed are the poor, but they need expect little help from a protective tariff.—Philadelphia Record.

Senator Gorman is already pluming himself for the presidency. This is much like the man who would attempt to ascend by a parachute after he was thrown out of a balloon.—Ex.

Fifty Years Ago.

This is the stamp that the letter bore which carried the story far and wide, of certain cure for the loathsome sore that bubbled up from the tainted tide of the blood below. And 'twas Ayer's name And his sarsaparilla, that all now know, That was just beginning its fight of fame With its cures of 50 years ago.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the original sarsaparilla. It has behind it a record for cures unequalled by any blood purifying compound. It is the only sarsaparilla honored by a medal at the World's Fair of 1893. Others imitate the remedy; they can't imitate the record:

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggist price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention The County Record and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.
